I feel bad for Pats fans. The Pats run since Brady/Belichick has been the longest, most successful run in NFL history. Instead of being able to revel in this success unfettered, they left with this feeling of it all real It a shame because none of this crap (Spygate, deflate gate, etc.) made any difference to the outcomes of games.

With all his troubles, Kaep was still a top 12 QB in the NFL last year. Anyone who thinks you can trade him and find another one of those is seriously delusional. He has a very cap friendly contract, (low guaranteed money with higher payments based on incentives, (like being a top 5 QB, going to the SB, winning the SB, etc.).

They take bets "up front", meaning the bettor must pay the sportsbook before placing the bet. Illegal bookies, due to the nature of their business, can operate literally anywhere but only require money from losing bettors and don't require the wagered money up front, creating the possibility of debt to the bookie from the bettor. This creates a number of other criminal elements, thus furthering their illegality..

I do what it takes to keep my body and my mind ready to be on that field. I do it for me, I do it for my family, I do it for my team and I do it for the fans. Nothing else to it. Shinn had also become discontented with the Charlotte Coliseum, which, although considered state of the art when it opened in 1988, had by then been considered obsolete due to a limited number of luxury boxes. On March 26, 2001, both the Hornets and the Vancouver Grizzlies applied for relocation to Memphis, Tennessee,[10] which was ultimately won by the Grizzlies. Shinn issued an ultimatum: unless the city built a new arena at no cost to him, the Hornets would leave town.
