Only 12 of the 31 five star defensive ends in our sample have made the pros, the worst performance of any group of five stars. (With the caveat that some, like Alex Okafor, are draft eligible but haven't yet left school.) (With the secondary caveat that the same is true for every other five star position group as well.) None have made a Pro Bowl or All Pro team or won a Super Bowl. With an NFL success rate of 38.71%, five star defensive ends are barely more reliable than four star defensive ends, who made the league at a rate of 28.40%, even though they are more than eight times as scarce..
