Public perception: This is a matchup of two 0 3 teams (maybe the NFL wanted to give England a game that more closely resembles a soccer score), and opened pick 'em. The public is more split on the current number of Steelers minus 3. The Vikings really let down bettors (both squares and sharps) last week in their loss to the Browns..

"We didn't point fingers at anyone," Strahan said. "We just said things in general. I stood up and said, "We need to play with fire, like we give a darn.' Then Jessie stood up and said: 'It's time to play with emotion. Gonzalez was the first round draft pick of the Chiefs in 1997, and played in Kansas City for 11 years, then played five more years in Atlanta. Gonzalez was chosen to 14 Pro Bowls, tied for the most of any player in NFL history, and is the all time record holder for touchdowns and yards by a tight end. Although he initially said he would retire after the 2012 season, he returned for 2013.
