It would eventually catch up to them. Seeing that one person is given so much power, what guarantee is there that they will do a good job? There is none. That is why there has to be a large amount of money involved. If a person did a job such as this, and received a small amount of pay, then there would not be much incentive for them to do a good job. They could always find another job, with a similar amount of pay, that did not put them under the stress that executive jobs put them. Recognizing and rewarding high performance is a key recommendation for any approach when managing any merit pay program (HRIS 2012).

The league media policy is clear: "Players must be available to the media following every game and regularly during the practice week as required under league rules. (AP)Having so little separation from the first to 31st team in the NFL makes it a challenge to rank them and an even bigger challenge to find a de facto No. 1 team but let's try anyway. Here are the power rankings following Week 6 of the NFL season:.

3. David Robinson 1 x DPOY, 4 x All Defensive First Team, 4 x All Defensive Second Team. Over his 14 year career averaged 3 BPG and 1.4 SPG, including highs of 4.5 BPG and 2.3 SPG in 1992. Description: Wall Street, the world's primary financial market and middleman, is in many ways a success. It brings together and places capital, creates new and innovative financial products, and buys and sells physical and financial assets. Its role in global economic growth has been, and remains, unique and vital.
