"He was dunking on Little Tikes at three; it was always his dream to be NBA player. He'd always say he was going to the NBA. He wouldn't pick a major, said he was going to the NBA. Amazing how so many Cowboys fans have trouble being objective about the PI call. It was textbook pass interference. Bad calls happen and the Cowboys caught a huge break there.

Pete Newell, head coach for the University of San Francisco Dons basketball team, came to Compton in 1948 for a recruiting visit. Impressed by Rozelle, Newell helped arrange for him to get a full scholarship to work in a similar capacity at USF.[3]Rozelle enrolled at USF that year and worked as a student publicist for the USF Dons athletic department. In addition to promoting the school's football team he was able to draw national attention to the Dons' 1949 National brent qvale jersey Invitation Tournament (NIT) championship basketball team.

All Pro defensive tackle Roger Brown appeared in five Playoff Bowls, the most by any player, and was on the winning side each time (Detroit Lions, 1960 61 62; Los Angeles Rams, 1967, 1969). He said playing in those seemingly meaningless contests was like having "the worst inferiority complex." He added, "I was in five of them, and to have played in it five in the ten years it was in existence is pitiful."[1]In its second year, the players on the winning team received $600 each, the losers $400;[5] and the fifth year game paid $800 and $600.[6] In its final years, the winners received $1,200 each, the losers $500.[3][7]One vestige of the Playoff Bowl remained through the 2008 season in that the head coaches of the losing teams from the conference championship games were the head coaches of their conferences' Pro Bowl teams. From 1980 to 2009, this all star game was played at Aloha Stadium in Honolulu the Sunday following the Super Bowl.
