Absolute BS! If anything his brain was damaged by drugs and alcohol! I live in SD and he was a regular at many parties and bars here, though he at one time was a dominate football player he had become a partier living in the shadow of what he to be It Sad but true, he drove his SUV off a cliff by my house one morning then said it was an accident, but to fly off the cliffs he drove off there is no accident there are many obstacles to drive through and around to actually drive off. It was on purpose, it a depression common among partiers who are sinking deep into the party scene of drugs and alcohol but who also know they are capable of zoo much more in their lives. Some people LOVE the spotlight when they in it, and don know how to find their own self worth within, without the constant media and fan praise.
