My visit was interesting to say the least. I scheduled an appointment to see the Church of Scientology in Philadelphia. It was located about 20 blocks from Drexel or Temple, I forget which on. Universities depend on their athletes to produce and maintain the popularity of their school's name. College athletes are suppose to be the best of the best on that level, so why do college athletes not get paid? The National Collegiate Athletic Association, NCAA, says that it is trying to protect the athletes from "exploitation by professional and commercial enterprises" (Brawn). Many argue that student athletes should not be paid because they are receiving an education through a scholarship.

Both Ticketmaster and the NFL are denying responsibility. Who is liable?!I purchased tickets through the NFL Ticket Exchange, but the seller showed up to the game and prevented me from accessing the seats. Both Ticketmaster and the NFL are denying responsibility.

It's one of those deals, the way I look at it is, name one person who wouldn't want to be in the position I am, and have the kind of path I've
