But that team is still a good NBA Defense. Imagine if Howard is combined with a good defender like Wallace. Or just average defenders. The first recorded instances of football hooliganism in the modern game allegedly occurred during the 1880s in England, a period when gangs of supporters would intimidate neighbourhoods, in addition to attacking referees, opposing supporters and players. In 1885, after Preston North End beat Aston Villa 5 0 in a friendly match, both teams were pelted with stones, attacked with sticks, punched, kicked and spat at. One Preston player was beaten so severely that he lost consciousness and press reports at the time described the fans as "howling roughs".[8] The following year, Preston fans fought Queen's Park fans in a railway station the first alleged instance of football hooliganism outside of a match.

Peterson followed in his mother's footsteps to excel in track field at Woodward, where he won several medals in events such as the 100 meters, 200 meters, triple jump, and long jump. Peterson's coach has stated that he believes that, had he not chosen a career in football, Peterson could have become an Olympic sprinter instead.[9] He recorded a wind legal time of 10.26 seconds in the 100 meter dash at the 2002 District 15 4A Championships, where he took first by a large margin.[citation needed] He also posted a wind assisted time of 10.33 seconds in the 100 meters at the 2003 UIL State Track Meet, where he earned a second place finish behind Ivory Williams,[16][17] who won the 2004 World Junior Championship over the same distance. After the season, he had surgery on his left shoulder to strengthen the muscles around the joint.[9].
