Funny how 5 years ago, this news would have been viewed as an action from a league that has its act together doing something proactive to insure a level playing field. Now the league is assumed to have something up its sleeve / devious ulterior motive with every move they make rightly so. I not sure it good or bad, but personally instead of thinking wow look at all these great catches, sometimes I think would he have made that catch without those gloves, and that second guessing seems to take away from the sport of it.

I like the aggressive approach from Suh. It reminds me of the way it supposed to be played, the way it used to be played. That is before the pussification of the NFL took place be mean to me boohoo my vagina is sore you dont want to have your head repeatedly shoved into the ground then stop taking it like a, grow some, and do something about it..
