I have Diabetes and let me tell you that it does not affect your every day life. Sometimes you feel very weak but you take a little drink with sugar or a candy bar and within a couple of minutes you are back to normal. The only time it would affect you is if you have a limb amputated, other than that there is no reason he wouldn be able to play football.

It can be 3 and inches and most teams would just punch it in with their RB but nooooooo Reid wants to throw a short pass instead. A lot of times, it fails and we end up giving away a possession. He also made a lot timeout mistakes last season and that may have costed us a W here or there..

In this sense, the stacked shell method verges on the behaviour of laminates in a layer wise manner, enabling a much more accurate determination of interlaminar stresses, compared to FSDT and Classical
