For instance, if the number is 65,637, 06 + 56 + 37 = 99, which is divisible by 11, so 65,637 is divisible by eleven. This also works by adding a trailing zero instead of a leading one: 65 + 63 + 70 = 198, which is divisible by 11. This also works with larger groups of digits, providing that each group has an even number of digits (not all groups have to have the same number of digits). An easy way of multiplying numbers by 11 in base 10 is: If the number has: 1 digit Replicate the digit (so 2×11 becomes 22). 2 digits Add the 2 digits together and place the result in the middle (so 47×11 becomes $4 \times (11) \times (11)$
